Tu amo!!
Laughs
We're gettins closer than before!
I enjoyed all classes that we have same. You're fun person to be with. You're one of few boys who have good personality and lookins too in MSD. You Rocks! Keep it up.
See ya around in Summer!
URSA AUDREY REWOlinski

History will be kind to me
for I intend to write it.

Defy the odds and succeed.

Follow your dreams.

History never looks like history
when you are living through it.

It's choice - not chance -
that determines
your destiny.

All the fun is locking horns
with impossibilities.

History is what you make of it.

The distance is nothing; it is only
the first step that is difficult.

The only thing new in the world
is the history you don't know...

Only Time and Fate Shall Tell...

Behold the unknown history awaiting you...

Better late than never

The Maryland School for the Deaf has a long and interesting heritage that began in 1867 when the State Legislature passed an act for the establishment of a school for the deaf. Mary M. Ijams has the honor of being the first student enrolled. The doors were officially opened in September 1868 with 34 students attending. However, during the first year, enrollment nearly doubled to 59 students.

The Hessian Barracks served as the first school building providing both living accommodations and classroom facilities. As the School grew, the main building was constructed. For over 100 years, this Old Main Building stood as one of the tallest buildings in Frederick. Three cupolas on the top of this large building could be seen from all directions until the building's demolition in 1968. The cupola is now the insignia for the Maryland School for the Deaf. A replica of one of the cupolas is the gazebo on the Frederick campus.

As the School expanded, so did the campus. Many buildings were added including four buildings that were named after former Superintendents. These are the Bjorlee Library, the Ambrosen Building, the Ely Building, and the Kent McCanner Building. On the far side of the campus, the Benson Gymnasium and Veditz Building were dedicated in 1975.

As the School continued to grow, the need for a branch campus was recognized. The Columbia Campus proudly opened its doors in 1973. In 1979, the final parcel of the Loats Farm on the Frederick Campus was purchased. This land will serve as the future site of the new elementary school and family education buildings to be completed by 2009.

Dedication

Born in Minneapolis, MN, and raised in Iowa where she attended the Iowa School for the Deaf, Joyce obtained her Bachelor's Degree in Home Economics from Gallaudet College. The year following her graduation, Joyce taught Home Economics to a diverse group of students at the South Dakota School for the Deaf. Joyce then married and had children, putting her teaching career on hold until her children enrolled in school. In 1972, Joyce Leitch began working at the Maryland School for the Deaf, when the new Columbia Campus first opened its doors!

In the beginning, Joyce Leitch served as a teacher's aide. She then returned to school, and received her Master's Degree from Western Maryland College. Joyce taught middle school for eight years. Since then, she has spent her career teaching elementary students. Former students have exclaimed, "Joyce is my favorite teacher!" because she helps them understand math word problems, learning how math is applied in real life. Joyce has a real passion for teaching mathematics.

Dedicated, caring, patient, kind, professional in appearance and demeanor, and always pleasant are some of the words used to describe Joyce Leitch. Her love of her students is evident in all Joyce does. Her classroom is always the most "kid-friendly" and her bulletin boards defy description. Joyce has been everyone's mentor. She extends her big heart to new teachers learning the daily routines, and to college students by helping and guiding the interns in her class. Joyce has spent an endless amount of hours staying after school to prepare for class activities. In the past, she has contributed her talents and time by sewing clothes for plays and participating in different holiday events. Columbia Campus has been truly blessed to have Joyce here as a teacher for almost thirty years.

Due to our admiration and respect for her contributions to the Maryland School for the Deaf, we dedicate this year's Cornerstone to Joyce Leitch.

Lorraine J. Stoltz began her teaching career in 1981. Since then she has touched the lives of many students as a teacher, class sponsor, and coach. Lorraine's own education began at the New York School for the Deaf where she graduated in 1973. From there, she moved on to Gallaudet where she received a Bachelor's Degree in Art in 1978. In 1980, Lorraine received her MA in Deaf Education from Western Maryland College.

Lorraine Stoltz began her MSD career in the high school department teaching social studies. For the past 23 years she has instructed elementary, middle, and high school students in social studies, art, computer, and photography classes. Lorraine has been honored as a Frederick County Teacher of the Year. She has served as a class sponsor for the Classes of 1987 and 1993.

As a coach, Lorraine Stoltz has spent countless hours in the gym. Lorraine has coached the MSD Varsity Girls Basketball team for 18 years. She was the founder of the first Girls Volleyball team in 1990, remaining in that position for five years. Lorraine has also coached a middle school softball team and an elementary basketball team. Her coaching highlights include four ESDAA championships and four Clerc Classic Championships. Two of her teams have claimed National Deaf Prep titles and two have been selected as the Silent News Team of the Year. Lorraine has been honored as a Frederick County Coach of the Year, twice as a Silent News Coach of the Year, twice as the FRAT Coach of the Year, and twice as the National Deaf Prep Coach of the Year.

Lorraine is well known for her love of golfing. She has won several golf championships across the country and was a member of the US 2002 Deaf Women's Golf championship team in Ireland. Lorraine is a member of the Board for the National Deaf Golf Association. She is also the chairperson for a youth golf camp in Maryland.

For her years of continuous service and devotion to MSD, the yearbook staff is proud to dedicate The 2004 Cornerstone to Lorraine Stoltz.

June 5, 2004

Dear Members of the Graduating Class of 2004,

On behalf of the MSD Community, I wish to congratulate each of you on your reaching a time-honored milestone in your lives: high school graduation! MSD has much confidence in your individual abilities and talents as you move on to colleges and universities, training programs, or the world of work.

Our country is still at war against terrorism. Our brave troops in Iraq and Afghanistan and many parts of the world are fighting an enemy that is difficult to locate and recognize. Nuclear weapons and bioterrorism continue to be serious threats to world peace.

At home, we face a myriad of economic and domestic issues that will be at the forefront of national debate for years to come. For example, Social Security benefits may be not keep pace with inflation in the future, thus impacting individuals who depend on this income. Free trade and protectionism continue to be thorny issues as our leaders grapple with promoting global economy and at the same time protecting American jobs that are being outsourced to other countries. Gun control, AIDS research, No Child Left Behind (NCLB) Act, gay marriages, human cloning, and environmental issues most likely will dominate presidential debates in the months leading to the November 2004 elections.

It is with much hope that you and your fellow members of your generation will contribute to the ongoing human quest for world peace, universal tolerance, and prosperity. Treasure throughout your lifetimes the knowledge, skills, and friends you gained at MSD. May this be your foundation as you journey throughout your lives.

Hundreds of members of the MSD Community are proud to have served each of you, and we wish you the best of luck in your future endeavors. You are always welcome to visit us and share with us your "world adventures".

Best wishes,

James E. Tucker

From your PROUD Principals

Congratulations to all the graduates, especially those who attended the Columbia Campus.
We are very proud of your accomplishments.
You have had the benefit of attending the best school for the Deaf in the country, both at Columbia and Frederick.
In the future, hopefully you will join the many Columbia graduates who have returned here to work. We wish you the best in your chosen path.
Richard Steffan, Principal at Columbia

Commencement: 1 a beginning, a start. 2 day when a school awards degrees.
Graduates, the definition above reflects your achievements.
However, going beyond the definition - commencement is a day for celebration, congratulations, and pride.
You have made MSD proud. Continue to do so....
Kathy Meagher, Acting Principal at Frederick

Leighason Marie Liddle

You left Columbia Campus to enter Frederick Campus for so many reasons you were eager to be. Now you are smiling.
You will now graduate from Elementary to Middle School.
We all are so proud!
Give everything your very best,
and be the person that you are.
Be wise in your choices and ask God for strength
and guidance each and everyday.
We love you, and will continue watching you grow.

As time revolves around the world, only we can tell the timeless experiences we all have gone through - our childhood, growing up, being freshmen, graduating, facing the real world for the very first time...

However, no matter how much timeless experiences we all go through, we will still always be faced with many new things.

'The Only New Thing In The World Is The History We Don't Know...'

The future ahead of us will be marked as the history we don't now know. So make the best of it, mark your path, make your own history, and let your history be known to the many generations ahead of us.

Don't wait, mark this day as the beginning of the history you don't know yet and mold it into whatever it is you want it to be molded into.

Carpe Diem!

The amazing, wonderful, exhausting, difficult, and timeless experiences I had making this wonderful yearbook wouldn't have been possible without my awesome yearbook partners: Kevin Gahagan and Kami Padden. They have dedicated a lot of their time to make this yearbook a most memorable one. "Thanks and Hail" to you both as the best yearbook creators ever! Special Thanks goes to Larry Newman, our yearook sponsor. Very helpful hands from Columbia's yearbook representative, Megan Conaghan, cannot go unnoticed as well.

Enjoy the Yearbook and Au Revior!

United States Goes to War in Iraq ▲

Leading a coalition of forces, the United States and Great Britain invaded Iraq and captured Saddam Hussein. Resistance continued after the capture amid continuing questions about weapons of mass destruction. President Bush surprised troops with a Thanksgiving visit and the United States soldier was named Time Magazine's Person of the Year. Back home, security alert levels were raised and international flights cancelled due to suspected terrorist threats.

The Power to Choose

There are many sources of energy for producing electrical power including solar energy from the sun, fossil fuels like coal, natural gas and petroleum, hydroelectric power which harnesses the motion of water to spin turbines, nuclear energy which is made by splitting atoms in a process called fusion and wind power which is produced by the wind turning a turbine. All have their advantages and disadvantages in giving us the power we need to run our lives.

Cargo Pants Deliver Big Profits to Retailers

Hot pockets were everywhere. They showed up on runways from Carolina Herrera (in silk) to Tommy Hilfiger (in charmeuse). They showed up on celebrities. They came cropped, belted and low-slung. And of course, they came with pockets...lots of pockets. Cargo pants were the hip huggers for 2003!

Meaning he took ultimate responsibility. "The buck stops here" sat on the desk of President Harry S. Truman. Martha Washington is the only woman whose portrait has ever appeared on a U.S. currency note. Her portrait was on the face of the $1 silver certificate issues of 1886 and 1891, and on the back of the $1 silver certificate of 1896. There have not been any women featured on U.S. paper currency in the entire 20th century.

Drive Like James Bond

The Gibbs Aquada looks like a sporty roadster, but press a button and in a few seconds flat its wheels tuck gracefully under its body, and you're boating, not driving. The Gibbs Aquada can do 100 mph on land and a cool 30 mph afloat.

Making a Name for Yourself

Everywhere you looked, from fashion runways to the classroom and beyond, preppy-style monograms, embroidery and decorative stitching were a letter perfect fashion trend on shirts and jeans.

Call Your Tune

It's a phone. It's a wireless music player. It's both. A leading phone company gave subscribers the chance to play full-length songs on its phones, radio-style. Subscribers can choose from 50 different songs. There's almost no delay but the sound is a bit wobbly for now.

A Handful of Fun

Zodiac challenged Game Boy on its own turf with a new handheld combination of a Palm organizer and video game player fully equipped with a hot graphics accelerator, analog joystick and high-res LCD screen. The new handheld comes with either 32MB or 128MB of memory and plays some of the most popular games on the market today.

Daring Dairy

New milk flavors such as raspberry, orange cream and blueberry are now in stores and some schools. Companies selling the new kind of milk hope its sweet flavors will get more kids to drink up. But some health experts say this new milk is almost as bad for kids as soda.

A cellular phone isn't actually a phone. It's really a highly sophisticated radio!

© Getty Images

The first cell phone was introduced 20 years ago in 1984.

It's For You

The process that lets you talk to anyone almost anywhere on your cellular phone begins with the division of an area like a city into small "cells," each with hundreds of assigned frequencies that let millions of people use their cell phones simultaneously. Using special codes, highly sophisticated transmitting systems can identify phones, the phone's owner, the phone's movement and the service provider so that calls can be transferred from cell to cell almost instantaneously.
